I've created a picture of my ideal client to facilitate an understanding of what a good fit with me is. The nature of my work as an executive coach can be summarized as enabling people to “take a walk inside themselves™”. Your results -- “more” of whatever it is that you want in your life.

A Snapshot:

BE Qualities & Traits	DO Actions & Behaviors	HAVE Beliefs & Desires
Honest Deliberate & Purposeful Open-Minded Authentic Respectful	Thinks about their legacy Striving to be their best Values open communication	More personal mastery Poised relationships A bigger vision for themselves

I will facilitate meaningful dialogue; “a frank conversation about the tough issues” and action enabling you to do what you don't want to do to achieve what you want to achieve. Your part is to be forward-thinking to what you do want; self-reflective to recognize when you get in your own way; and a willingness to confront yourself when your behaviors don't match your intentions. What we can accomplish together is transformational change as you reach your goals and start living the life you dream about.

Let me know if you would like to explore if we are a good fit.

I welcome the opportunity to serve doing what I love to do.

Connected, Always
